STORY OUTLINE: Begins with puppets in party outfits having a big birthday party celebration. But as they discuss the party, it becomes apparent that each one thought it was the other's birthday, and in fact it's none of their birthdays. The puppets decide to have the party anyway, and burst into a wild party song.

Out on the main set, Stacy hurries in with her suitcase. She's in a hurry because, as she reminds the kids, today she's going to her sister Tracy's ranch out west. There is going to be a family reunion, where all her relatives will be, and Stacy has been looking forward to it for a long time. She briefly describes the food and games at the party, and how much fun she expects to have.

Billy comes out to see her off, assuring her that everything will be all right while she's away. Just as she's about to leave, the phone rings. It's J.B. King. As Stacy listens, her face drops.

It turns out that all the trains are now going to be routed through the Snarleyville Station, and this means that the entire schedule has to be rewritten. As Stacy repeats the names of towns all up and down the line, and how the trains are scheduled through them, her face drops. Her own train pulls in. Stacy hands up the phone, dejected: she can't go on her trip, she must stay and work on the schedule--otherwise it could be dangerous and there might be an accident because of a train going down the wrong track. Her train pulls out, and Stacy heaves a sad sigh and gets down to work.

A cut to the puppets reveals that they're heartbroken for Stacy. They stop their own party.

The kids feel sorry for Stacy, and along with Billy, they resolve to throw her a surprise party to cheer her up.

Mr. Conductor appears. He's in good spirits: he's been out to Lucy's Leap, playing leap frog with some real frogs. Other than getting a little wet and slippery, it's been great fun.

The kids tell him about Stacy and their planned party. This leads into the TTE Story: "Thomas and the Breakdown Train," as an example of helping others when in need. Wishing them luck at the party, and promising to attend, Mr. Conductor vanishes.

The kids pool their money and decide to use it to buy things for the party. They each remark where the money has come from: allowance, or what they've earned doing jobs around home or the station.

Ginny arrives and is surprised to see Stacy. Stacy briefly explains what happened, and Ginny sees how disappointed Stacy is. Ginny had come thinking Stacy wasn't there, and was really just looking in to see how things were going. The kids take her aside and tell her their plans. Ginny had brought some fudge for them, and she contributes it to the party.

Ginny gets a brainstorm and remembers that she has some fun party things back at her house. The girls decide to go with her, and leave Dan in charge of the fudge and the money, while they go with Ginny to get some party supplies.

Schemer enters looking for a package from Buttertown that he's expecting to be delivered on the next freight train. Seeing the package isn't there, he becomes critical of the railroad in general, and Stacy's operation in particular.

Stacy is not in the mood for Schemer, and gives him a piece of her mind. Taken aback, Schemer retreats to a corner. ("Gee, what's with her?") Billy tells him what's happened. Schemer is unmoved, preferring to nurse his own imagined hurt from Stacy's retort to him.

He wanders over to where Dan is sitting and helps himself to some fudge. Dan explains that the fudge is for the surprise party, but Schemer says that Stacy has hurt his feelings, and that entitles him to some. He points out that Dan has been left here all alone, holding the bag, so to speak, while the "girls" are off at Ginny's house having a good time. Schemer paints a picture of them together, while Dan sits it out all alone. Schemer mentions that Dan should have some fudge, too, since Ginny originally brought it for the kids, anyhow. Dan gives in and has some.

Seeing a potential to make some money, Schemer continues to play on Dan, suggesting that he should play a song to cheer himself up. Better yet, play a song that Stacy likes, and that way he'll make two people feel better. Once more, Dan gives in. It feels good spending money, Schemer observes. Dan agrees.

Puppet Song: "Sweet Betsy From Pike"

During the song, we see cuts of Dan playing other machines in the arcade, while Schemer stands by egging him on to spend more money.

Coming out of the song, Dan finishes playing an arcade game and suddenly realizes that he's spent all the money entrusted to him. Schemer has no sympathy, says something about how fun it was while it lasted, and exits.

Now Dan is frightened of what's going to happen when the others find out what he's done. Mr. Conductor appears. He tells Dan that it will work out--Dan just got a little carried away. This leads into TTE Story: "Down the Mine."

Mr. Conductor concludes that Thomas also got a little carried away, and was irresponsible, but Gordon proved to be understanding in the end--and so will Dan's friends.

Kara returns, and there is a confrontation when she finds out what Dan's done. He apologizes. Mr. Conductor convinces them that instead of arguing about it, they need to pull together and make a plan.

Schemer returns, this time with his package. He sits down and opens it: the box is full of fruit cake. Schemer explains that he plans to repackage the fruit cakes and resell them at a higher price, claiming that his mother has made them.

The kids shame him into contributing the fruit cakes to Stacy's party, especially in light of how he took all the fudge and money in the first place. Reluctantly, Schemer hands the fruit cake over.

Ginny enters and when Stacy emerges from the workshop the party begins. Billy then announces some good news: the new schedule reveals that Stacy could take the newly scheduled express train tomorrow morning and still get to her sister's house in time to enjoy most of the family reunion. Now it's a real party. Bon voyage

Dan, having learned his lesson, quietly slips a slice of fruit cake to Mr. Conductor and thanks him for his help.

SHINING TIME STATION

"Stacy's Party"

By

Wilson Coneybeare

First Draft:
July 8, 1991

SCENE 1:
(INT JUKEBOX)

(COME UP ON PUPPETS FINISHING OFF SONG WITH A BIG FINISH. THEY ARE ALL WEARING PARTY FINERY AND THERE ARE STREAMERS EVERYWHERE)

TITO:

Now cats, that was one hot and happening number!

DIDI:

Out of sight! This sure is one wild party! Happy birthday, Rex!

REX:

Much obliged, Didi, much obliged. Be even better if it was my birthday.

DIDI:

What? You mean it's not?

REX:

Can't be.

DIDI:

Gee, Rex, are you sure?

REX:

Well, I don't have any presents for Tex, and we've got the same birthday, so if I don't have any presents for him, it can't be his birthday, so it ain't mine.

Having a present for his brother is a weak beginning to the chain of loyer

TEX:

It's a good point, Rex.

REX:

Got a million of 'em Tex.

of good points / not of birthdays

SCENE 1 (CONTD)

DIDI:

Wait a minute, If it's not Rex's birthday, and I know it's not mine--

TITO:

Then it must be mine!

OTHERS:

Happy birthday, Tito!

TITO:

Thanks, man, what great friends. Except...I had my birthday two weeks ago.

DIDI:

But if it's nobody's birthday and we're already having a party, what are we celebrating?

TITO:

The only thing we can celebrate -- nobody's birthday! Hit it!

Carry

(THEY GO INTO "HAPPY BIRTHDAY DEAR NOBODY")

SCENE 2:
(MAINSET)

(WE HEAR MUSIC LOW IN B.G.)

(TWO SUITCASES ARE ON STEPS AT ARCHWAY. KARA AND VICKIE ARE TYING CLAIM TICKETS TO THEM)

VICKIE:

Gee, if Stacy doesn't hurry up she's going to miss her train!

KARA:

I think she's a little excited about going away.

VICKIE:

What makes you say that?

(STACY RUSHES IN, PULLING ON HER COAT. SHE'S VERY HARRIED -- HAS A PIECE OF PAPER IN HER HAND)

STACY:

Okay, wait, no! Right! I think I've got everything. Vickie, could you list off this read -- I mean, read off this list to me?

(VICKIE READS OFF PAPER AS KARA HELPS STACY PUT ON COAT. ETC.)

VICKIE:

Toothbrush, pajamas, cookies, hairbrush,
balloons, presents for family --

STACY:

Oh no! Where are the presents I got for my family? I can't go to my family reunion without presents!

(DAN ENTERS LUGGING BIG BOX)

SCENE 2 (CONTD)

DAN:

Here they are, Aunt
Stacy.

STACY:

Oh thank you, Dan! I guess I'm a little scatterbrained. I always get excited when I go to my Uncle Stubby's Ranch in Pelican Falls. It's so wonderful being with relatives you haven't seen in awhile.

I'm not thinking straight ~~about myself~~

VICKIE:

I've never been to a family reunion. What do you do?

STACY:

Oh, we sing songs and hug and laugh, and Auntie Grace will make the most wonderful meals and -- Oh no! I forgot --

BILLY:

(ENTERING)

your lunch? Right here.

(INDEED, BILLY HAS BOXED LUNCH FOR HER)

A nice big sandwich and all sorts of fruits and vegetables for the train ride.

STACY:

Billy, you're a lifesaver!

SCENE 2 (CONTD)

BILLY:

Well you just make sure you have a good time at this reunion.

STACY:

Oh, I know I will.
Nothing can stop me from that.

(THE PHONE RINGS - STACY ANSWERS)

Shining Time Station, Stacy Jones speaking, how may I help you? Oh, Mr..
King! A problem with the train schedule?

(WE HEAR TRAIN COMING IN)

DAN:

Aunt Stacy, that's your Train!

Stacy:

(COVERS RECEIVER)

Just an minute, Dan. It's Mr, King, the Superintendent of railroad.

(BACK ON)

Yes, Mr. King? Oh no.
Everything's being rerouted through Snarlyville? But that will mean the train to East Shemp will cross the freight to Chubby Corners and that the Rainbow Sun to Mount Careful will...
Oh, you know all that.

KARA:

come on, we'd better put Stacy's bags on the train for her.

SCENE 2 (CONTD)

BILLY:

Hold onto that thought, Kara. I think we might have a problem here.

KARA:

A problem? Like What?

(BILLY GESTURES TO STACY ON THE PHONE AS SHE WRAPS UP CALL, DEFLATED)

STACY:

Yes, I understand, Mr.
King. Of course. Goodbye.

(SHE HANGS UP AS KIDS PICK UP HER BAGS)

I think you'd better leave the bags right there. I'm not going.

KIDS:

What??

STACY:

Well. it seems there's an emergency in the main track. All the trains have to be routed through Snarlyville.

KIDS:

So??

STACY:

Well, that means I have to draw up a new schedule right away.

VICKIE:

Gee, Stacy, can't you do that when you get back?

SCENE 2 (CONTD)

BILLY:

You don't understand, Vickie. If that new schedule isn't made up, there could be an accident on the railroad.

STACY:

(REMOVES COAT)

Billy's right. It's my Responsibility. I'd better unpack and get to work.

(DESPONDENT SHE TAKES ONE OF HER BAGS AND MOVES OFF KIDS LOOK TO BILLY AS WE HEAR TRAIN LEAVE)

VICKIE:

But there goes her train!
Gee, Billy, Stacy was so excited about seeing her family and now...it's not fair!

BILLY:

That's the way things go sometimes, Vickie. Stacy knows she's the only one who can draw up that schedule, and if she didn't, people might be hurt, She's doing the responsible thing.

(MOVES OFF. KIDS LOOK AT ONE ANOTHER)

KARA:

Boy, when I grow up I'm gonna make sure I don't have any responsibilities at all.

SCENE 3:

(INT. JUKEBOX)

(PUPPETS HAVE STOPPED THEIR PARTY)

DIDI:

What a gyp!use diff word

TITO:

Man, I gotta agree. That is some raw deal. Hey, Rex, my man, are you okay?

(WE SEE REX IS CRYING)

TEX:

He's too upset to talk, Tito. Aren't you, Rex?

REX:

Sure am, Tex. Nothin' worse than being hog-tied when all you wanna do is see your kin.

DIDI:

Gee, Rex, I'm sure we can think of something that won't make Stacy feel so sad and disappointed and... and...

(SHE STARTS CRYING)

and...heartbroken and...

TITO:

Oh, ma-an, don't do this.
Now you got me cryin', and if I get my sequins wet --

(BREAKING DOWN)

I just won't know what to do with myself!

SCENE 3 (CONTD)

TEX:

Well, pardners, all I can say is that this is one jaded jukebox jamboree.

SCENE 4:
(MAINSET)

(BAGS ARE GONE AND THE THREE KIDS ARE SITTING, DESPONDENT ON STEPS OF ARCHWAY. BILLY APPROACHES, SEES THEM)

BILLY:

Seems to me I see three very long faces.

VICKIE:

We're sad. Billy.

BILLY:

Oh. In that case, I'll join you.

(HE SITS DOWN, MAKES A FOURTH, ADOPTS THEIR POSE. AFTER A MOMENT)

What are we sad about?

KARA:

Stacy.

BILLY:

Oh.

(BEAT)

Why are we sad about Stacy?

DAN:

She was really looking forward to going away and now she can't.

BILLY:

Oh, I see. I guess there's nothing we could do to cheer her up. I mean, to do that you'd have to -- I don't know
-- throw her a party of something.

SCENE 4 (CONTD)

KARA:

(TO DAN AND VICKIE)

We could throw her a party or something.

DAN:

Hey yeah, maybe we could...

BILLY:

But then to really make it fun, it would probably have to be a surprise.

VICKIE:

We could make it a surprise.

BILLY:

But then you'd have to figure a way to have treats and balloons and games and things.

KARA:

We could have treats and balloons and games and things!

DAN AND VICKIE:

Yeah, that's a great idea! Billy, are you all right?

BILLY:

Mm? Oh, I'm a little sad thinking about Stacy.

KARA:

Don't worry, Billy!

SCENE 4 (CONTD)

KARA: (CONTD)

We're going to throw her a surprise party with treats and games and balloons and things!

BILLY:

You mean... Hey, that's a great idea!

(RISES)

You three always figure out something. I wish I had Ideas like that.

omit /

(AND HE'S GONE)

(SPFX: MR. C POPS IN)

MR. C:

Did I hear someone say
I've been to a party?

KARA:

Hi Mr. Conductor. No, We said we're going to have a party.

MR. C:

Oh well. that's different. I'd hate to have been to a party I messed, especially since
I was just at a party.

DAN:

Gee, Mr. Conductor,
that's confusing.

MR, C:

Oh no, it wasn't a confusing party, it was a jumping party. I was playing leap frog out at Lucy's leap.

SCENE 4 (CONTD)

KARA:

You mean you were playing leap frog with real frogs?

MR. C:

Of course, and aside from getting a little wet and slippery, I'd say we had one leaping good time.

VICKIE:

Well the party we're talking about is for Stacy. She didn't get to go to her family reunion, so we thought we'd have a party to cheer her up.

MR. C:

A capital idea! It's most important to help friends when they're feeling down or in a bit of a spot. I was just telling the frogs that very thing.

DAN:

Were the frogs in a spot?

MR. C:

Spotted but not in a spot. No, I told them about James and Gordon and the breakdown train, which was a spot -- of trouble, anyway. Watch and I'll explain:

omit

(HE BLOWS WHISTLE AND WE GO TO:)

(SPFX: THOMAS INTRO FX)

SCENE 5:

(TTE SEGMENT: "THOMAS AND THE BREAKDOWN TRAIN")

SCENE 6: (MAINSET)

MR. C:

So you see, everyone needs help at some time, whether it's an engine who needs help over a bump, or a friend in a bit of a slump. Speaking of which --

(WE HEAR A FROG GOING "RIBBIT")

-- I think it's my turn to jump.

(WITH THAT HE "JUMPS" OFF)

VICKIE:

You know, Mr. Conductor's right; let's make this the best party Stacy ever had!

KARA:

But how do we start?

VICKIE:

Well first off. We'll need to buy decorations and balloons and treats and things. Billy gave me
--

(CHECKS POCKETS)

-- ten cents for the time
I cleaned the basement.

DAN:

I've got money from helping Mr. Winslow at his general store.

KARA:

I've got my allowance and what I made from washing windows --

SCENE 6 (CONTD)

VICKIE:

Well that should be enough money to get everything we need to buy. Now what else can we do?

DAN:

I know! I could make a sign that says, "Cheer up Stacy!"

VICKIE:

That's a great idea! We could also --

(BUT THEY ARE INTERRUPTED BY A VERY FAMILIAR VOICE)

GINNY: (O.S.)

Hey hey hey, what do we say!

KIDS:

It's Ginny from Farmer's Dell!

(INDEED IT IS GINNY, CARRYING A SMALL CAKE BOX. KIDS SURROUND HER)

Hi, Ginny!

KARA:

We didn't know you were coming today, Ginny.

why would they know?

GINNY:

Well, hey, I woke myself up this morning and said, "throw me off the dog house roof, but isn't it today that Stacy goes on her vacation?" And I answered myself, "It sure is, Ginny!"

SCENE 6 (CONTD)

GINNY: (CONTD)

You'd best go down and see how the kids are doing while Stacy's gone!"

(A HARRIED STACY, CLIPBOARD AND PAPERS IN HAND, GOES TO WORK AT TICKET AREA)

STACY:

Hi there, Ginny.

GINNY:

Hi, Stacy, So! Any trouble yet with -- well hey! Twist me into a flag pole but did I just say,
"Hi, Stacy"?

KARA:

Stacy had to stay here and work out the new train schedule so no trains will smack into each other.

GINNY:

Well now say! That sounds like an apple with a mighty big worm inside!

VICKIE:

But we've figured a way to cheer her up. It's ---

(BUT VICKIE STOPS, AWARE OF STACY WORKING AT BOOTH. THE KIDS PULL GINNY OVER NEAR ARCADE AND WHISPER IN HER EAR. SHE RESPONDED IN AN EXCITED WHISPER)

GINNY:

A surprise party, big signs and all! Now that's what Ginny calls a corker of an idea.

SCENE 6 (CONTD)

GINNY: (CONTD)

A real corker! And isn't it fitting that old Ginny is holding in her mitt on full box of --

(SHE OPENS BOX AND SHOWS IT TO THEM. THEY RESPOND, HIDING THEIR REACTION FROM STACY)

KIDS:

Fudge!

GINNY:

Fresh-made fudge for my favorite train-yard trio, but it sounds to me like it might be better used for Stacy's party.

VICKIE:

Hey, that's great, Ginny!

GINNY:

And not only that, if old Ginny's noggin' isn't on vacation, I seem to remember I have a whole bunch of party things at the farm. Maybe we should go back there and see what we can find, eh?

KARA:

That's great!

GINNY:

So what say we divide our forces and you girls come with me while Dan works on his sign. Later on, all four of us'll go to Barton Winslow and buy whatever else we need.

SCENE 6 (CONTD)

KIDS:

Right, that's great!

VICKIE:

Here, Dan. You take care of the money and we'll be back in no time.

DAN:

(TAKING CASH)

Boy, this is gonna be the best party ever. Nothing can stop us now!

FLIP TO:

SCENE 7: (MAINSET)

(GUESS WHO? SCHEMER IS LEANING IMPATIENTLY AT THE EMPTY TICKET DESK, VERY FULL OF HIMSELF. HE HITS THE BELL)

SCHMER:

Ah-hem! Service, please!

(NOTHING, HITS BELL AGAIN)

Service-er-rooni!

(HITS BELL AGAIN. STACY COMES OUT, IN A NONE TOO HAPPY MOOD)

STACY:

What is it, Schemer?!

SCHMER:

Miss Jones, I am expecting a very important package and need to know if it's come in yet. I am referring.
of course, to my sea monkeys and the pair of X-ray glasses I ordered.

STACY:

Nothing's come in yet,
Schemer.

SCHMER:

What?! But this is important. I demand you call the freight controller right now!

STACY:

Look, Schemer, no trains are running on time because everything's been rerouted and --

SCENE 7 (CONTD)

SCHEMER:

And this is the Schemer's fault?!

STACY:

Schemer, I've got to work out this new schedule and there's nothing I can do about a late shipment so you'll just have to wait!

out of proportion

must yell a lot to hurt his feelings so this feeling for my best

SCHEMER:

Well you don't have to yell.

STACY:

I'm sorry, Schemer, it's just that...

SCHEMER:

No you're not! You're not sorry at all! You just want to hurt my feelings.

STACY:

Schemer, all I meant was...

SCHEMER:

No, no, you can't take it back now. It's -- it's not --erasable!

(HE MOVES OFF, UPSET, GOES TO AREA NEAR INFO BOOTH WHERE DAN IS WORKING SIGN. SCHEMER SITS AND BLOWS HIS NOSE FROM HUGE HANKY)

Think a guy doesn't have and feelings... doesn't need his X-ray glasses...

DAN:

Hi Schemer.

SCENE 7 (CONTD)

SCHEMER:

Oh sure, pretend you care!

DAN:

What's the matter,
Schemer?

SCHEMER:

Miss Jones just attacked me with malicious intent-er-ooni.

DAN:

Oh, she didn't mean to.
She's kind of sad because she couldn't go to her family reunion --

SCHEMER:

Yeah but she hurt my feelings! No X-Ray glasses... I was going to spend the whole day looking through walls, and instead I get yelled at.

(BLOWS NOSE, SEES FUDGE)

What's this? Fudge? Well, it might help...

(TAKES FUDGE, TIMIDLY NIBBLES IT)

DAN:

Sorry, Schemer, but that's for the surprise party we're giving Stacy.

SCHEMER:

Oh sure oh sure, take fudge away from me, too!
What do you mean, surprise party "we're" giving Stacy?

SCENE 7 (CONTD)

DAN:

Kara and me and Vickie and Ginny. They're out at Ginny's farm right now and I'm making a sign.

SCHEMER:

You mean they're at Ginny's farm having fun and you're stuck doing all the work?!!

DAN:

Well, gee, I don't think it's like that...

SCHEMER:

Oh no? I'll bet they're playing with Granger the dog and having hay fights and eating pecan tarts -- Here, have some fudge.

DAN:

I don't know, Schemer...

SCHEMER:

Didn't Ginny bring the fudge for you guys in the first place? It's only fair.

DAN:

Well, maybe one piece...

(TAKES ONE PIECE. SCHEMER GETS AN IDEA)

SCHEMER:

You know what always cheers me up when I'm sad? Spending money!
That's it!

(HE PRACTICALLY DRAGS DAN UP TO THE ARCADE, DOES A LITTLE SPELLBINDING)

SCENE 7 (CONTD)

SCHEMER (CONTD):

Just look at this wonderful jukebox saying to you "Dan, spend a nickel and you'll feel so much better after the way everybody's been gypin' you!" One nickel.

diff word

DAN:

Well, it might be nice to hear music while making my sign...

SCHEMER:

Absolute-er-ooni!

DAN:

Maybe just one...

(TAKES OUT MONEY)

Except I don't have any nickels.

SCHEMER:

No problem-o, no problem, o. for a quarter
I'll give you two dimes and one nickel.

}

from four nickels

DAN:

Hey, thanks, Schemer!

SCHEMER:

(RAPIDLY MAKING CHANGE)

But wait! The Schemer is wondering what good are two dimes? For two dimes
I could give you four nickels.

DAN:

Gee, I don't know.

SCENE 7 (CONTD)

DAN: (CONTD)

I don't want to spend all this money...

SCHEMER:

You're not spending all your money, you're spending a nickel at a time. And what's a nickel? Five cents.
Hardly worth talking about!

DAN:

Hey, I guess you're right.

SCHEMER:

Right as snow!

&gt;

right as he

DAN:

Here goes!

SCHEMER:

(PUTS NICKEL IN THE JUKE, MAKES A CHOICE)

SCHEMER:

See, don't you feel<sup>e</sup> better already? And while the song is playing, what could be better than to play with the crane machine!

DAN:

Well, maybe one game...

SCHEMER:

This is even better than fudge!

SCENE 8:
(INT. JUKEBOX)

DIDI:

Here it comes!

TITO:

Let's hit it. Ah one two three!

(THEY GO INTO "SWEET BETSY FROM PIKE")

SCENE 9:
(MAINSET)

(DURING SONG WE SEE DAN PLAYING ALL THE ARCADE MACHINES, THOROUGHLY ENJOYING HIMSELF AND GOING BACK TO A DELIGHTED SCHEMER FOR CHANGE. FINALLY AS SONG ENDS, DAN APPROACHES REACHING IN HIS POCKET)

DAN:

Schemer, do you have more change for the machines?

SCHEMER:

Does Schemer have change for the machines? Does a flea have bear cubs? How much?

DAN:

Well...

(HE STOPS, REACHES FURTHER IN HIS POCKET, PULLS OUT INSIDE OF POCKETS)

I've got to have more -- Oh no! Schemer, I don't have any money left!

SCHEMER:

Well, them's the breaks, eh? It was fun while it lasted though, wasn't it?

(GIVES HIM AN AFFECTIONATE HUG)

It was almost -- magical.
Thanks for cheering me up!

(AND HE'S GONE. DAN. DISCONSOLATE, MOVES DOWN STEPS OF ARCADE, SITS ON STEPS)

(SPFX: MR. C POPS IN)

SCENE 9 (CONTD)

MR. C:

I must say, I've seen happier faces at The Annual International Frowning Contest.

DAN:

Hi, Mr. Conductor. I've done something terrible. I was supposed to hold onto the money for the party this afternoon, but then -- before I know it -- I spent it all on the Arcade!

MR. C:

Oh, well, that sounds like you lost not only dollars but some sense as well.

DAN:

But now we don't have the party! Vickie and Kara will hate me forever!

MR. C:

Oh, I don't know about that. It sounds like you just got carried away, which all of us do at some point ~~of~~ <sup>or</sup> other.

DAN:

You mean you've gotten carried away?

MR. C:

Just this morning playing leap frog. I jumped too far and hurt my head on one of the rocks, and I had to be carried, away

SCENE 9 (CONTD)

DAN:

No, I mean like going too far.

MR. C:

Oh well, that's a different matter, although it's not so different from Thomas and the mine. Don't you remember?

(HE BLOWS WHISTLE)

(SPFX: THOMAS INTRO FX)

SCENE 10:

(VT: TTE "DOWN THE MINE")

SCENE 11:
(MAINSET)

MR. C:

So you see, we all get carried away at some time or other, and sometimes less than other times.

DAN:

You mean that Gordon wasn't mad at Thomas for getting stuck that way?

MR. C:

Not when he saw that Thomas realized he'd been more than a little foolish and that he wouldn't do it again.

DAN:

Yeah, but that's Thomas and Gordon. Vickie and Kara will never forgive me for this.

MR. C:

Oh, I'm not so sure about that. I think if you just explain what happened, they'll understand.

(WHISPERS)

And here's your chance to make it clear/for if I'm not mistaken/ they're turning round the corner and will soon be here.

(KARA AND VICKIE BOUND ON WITH BOXES OF DECORATIONS)

KARA:

Boy, did we find a lot of fun party stuff!

SCENE 11 (CONTD)

VICKIE:

Yeah, Ginny's waiting outside in her truck to take us to Mr. Winslow's general store where we can buy the other things we need. Come on!

DAN:

Uh, just a second guys...

KARA:

Did you finish your sign?

DAN:

(REMEMBERS)

My sign! I was so worried about spending all the money I forgot about my sign!

KARA AND VICKIE:

Spending all the money?!

DAN:

Uh, well, yeah I -- you see, I sorta spent it all on the Arcade and --

(GIRLS ERUPT IN ANGER, "DAN HOW COULD YOU" AND "WE NEVER SHOULD HAVE TRUSTED YOU: ETC. BILLY APPEARS, INTERCEDES)

BILLY:

Well now, what's all this about?

VICKIE:

Billy, Dan spent all the money we were going to use for Stacy's surprise party.

SCENE 11 (CONTD)

DAN:

But I didn't mean to. It just sort of happened by accident...

BILLY:

Spending money by accident's an awfully strange thing to happen, but now that the damage is done, fighting won't solve it. Shouldn't you two listen to what Dan's got to say?

KARA AND VICKIE:

Well???

(DAN SHIFTS UNCOMFORTABLY)

DAN:

Well, I was working on the sign and Schemer came over -- And, well, he was eating our fudge because Aunt Stacy was mad at him...

VICKIE:

You let him eat the fudge for the party?!

DAN:

And, well...<sup>x</sup>next thing I knew he said it would be fun to spend money on the machines and... to the machine

(AT THAT MOMENT A WHISTLING SCHEMER ENTERS WITH A LARGE CAKE BOX AND SIGN. HE GOES TO ARCADE, PUTS UP SIGN. WHICH READS "FRUIT CAKES, FIVE CENTS", HAPPILY UNITES STRING OF BOX, PULLS OUT A FRUIT CAKE. HE BECOMES AWARE OF ALL EYES ON HIM, SLOWLY TURNS)

SCENE 11 (CONTD)

SCHEMER:

Is there a problem-o?

VICKIE:

Schemer, did you make Dan spend all our money??

trick Dan into spending all our money

SCHEMER:

(BACKS AWAY)

I'm not talking to you.
You're going to get mad at me for something. I can tell.

(RELENTS)

Okay, Okay, so I talked him into spending all your money!

KARA:

And you ate all our fudge!

SCHEMER:

I did? Oh right. I did.
Well but hey! It gave me a great idea. See? "Fruit cakes, five cents." I got my mommy to make fruit cakes that I can sell and made nickels nickels nickels!

VICKIE:

Well, I guess we can accept the fruit cake for the fudge.

SCHEMER:

What???

SCENE 11 (CONTD)

VICKIE:

It's that or you give back all the money you made Dan spend.

SCHEMER:

(PRESENTS FRUIT CAKES WITH A FLOURISH)

A box of fruity cakes coming right up!

KIDS:

Gee, thanks, Schemer!

(TAKES FRUIT CAKES. SCHEMER GRUMBLES)

SCHEMER:

Who likes fruit cake
anyway?

DISSOLVE TO:

SCENE 12:
(MAINSET)

(LATER, AND EVERYONE IS PUTTING FINISHING TOUCHES ON DECORATIONS. THERE ARE STREAMERS AND A TABLE OF FRUIT CAKE AND COOKIES AND STUFF. A SULKING SCHEMER SITS PLAYING WITH STREAMER)

(BILLY AND GINNY ARE ON LADDERS PUTTING UP "CHEER UP, STACY!" SIGN KIDS DOING OTHER ODD JOBS)

GINNY:

"Cheer up, Stacy!" Now if that ain't one top-notch popper of a salutation, you can throw me in the toaster and call me pavement!

BILLY:

You three have done a fine job.

SCHEMER:

With my fruitcake...

GINNY:

Oh, Schemer, consider it your donation to the cause.

SCHEMER:

Eughhh... "Donation." I hate that word.

VICKIE:

I guess we're ready. But how do we get Stacy out here?

DAN:

We could yell fire.

SCENE 12 (CONTD)

BILLY:

That might be a little dangerous.

GINNY:

Give her a simple holler and she'll come running'.

KARA:

We could ring the ice cream man's bell!

SCHEMER:

Allow me!

(THEY WATCH AS, WITH A FLOURISH, A HAUGHTY SCHEMER MOVES TO THE TICKET
BOOTH. SEEING WHAT HE'S ABOUT TO DO THEY ALL HIDE. SCHEMER HAMMERS THE BELL AS HE DID BEFORE)

SCHEMER (CONTD):

Miss Jones! Miss Jones!

(STACY COMES OUT OF WORKSHOP)

STACY:

Schemer didn't I tell you that --

(EVERYONE JUMPS OUT)

ALL:

SURPRISE!

(STACY JUMPS, REACTS, SEES THE DECORATIONS AND STREAMERS AND SIGN)

STACY:

But -- but what's all this?

SCENE 12 (CONTD)

KARA:

We thought you were sad because you couldn't go to your family reunion --

VICKIE:

So we threw you a party!

(IN B.G PHONE RINGS, BILLY GOES TO ANSWER)

STACY:

Oh that's wonderful! I don't know what to say...

DAN:

And we all helped out.

SCHEMER:

Indeed we did! Allow me to point out that the fruit cake is my contribution.

STACY:

Oh Schemer, that's so nice of you!

SCHEMER:

It's nothing.

GINNY:

You can say that again.

STACY:

I don't know what to say!
I really don't --

BILLY:

I know what you can say.

(THEY TURN TO SEE BILLY HANGING UP THE PHONE)

SCENE 12 (CONTD)

BILLY (CONTD):

You can say goodbye. That was Mr King. The new schedule will be put into use right away, which means you can catch the first express train tomorrow morning to Pelican Falls!

EVERYONE:

That's great! Horray!
You're going after all!

GINNY:

Well, gang, this is what I'd call a real celebration! Dan, how's about cutting up that fruit cake and I'll break out some of Ginny's home made apple cider!

(EVERYONE REACTS WITH ENTHUSIASM.
DAN GOES TO TABLE TO CUT FRUIT CAKE, WHERE MR. C APPEARS IN A PARTY HAT WITH A BLOWER, ETC.)

MR. C:

I hope we're not too late for the party.

DAN:

Just in time, Mr.
Conductor. I want to thank you for your help.

MR C:

Not at all. Without help getting out of trouble, trouble wouldn't be trouble at all, would it?

DAN:

I guess that's true.

SCENE 12 (CONTD)

DAN: (CONTD)

Would you like some fruit cake?

MR. C:

We'd love some fruit cake.

DAN:

We? Who's we?

MR. C;

My guest. They --

(LOOKS AROUND)

They were around here somewhere --

(BOTH HE AND DAN LOOK JUST IN TIME TO SEE SCHEMER TAKING A SIP OF CIDER AS A FROG JUMPS OUT OF NOWHERE. AS SCHEMER COMPLETELY FREAKS OUT WE:)
